

Although Americade has a full time, year-round staff, we also rely on a wonderful volunteer staff to help "make it happen." Each year, over 200 volunteers join our happy group.

There's no getting around it--volunteering can be hard work, but most staffers come back year after year. They'll tell you it's because they like the fun as well as the pride in being part of such a great rally, that they get to see old friends each year, and that they like to give something back to the rally they love.
